

Rapport from exchange in Istanbul

The last exchange in the project Divided God was carried out in Istanbul between April 10th and 17th 2008. Exchange was performed during the Geppenc festival, where the project Divided God was also presented. Lectures and discussions were organized at the Bilgi University and also numerous visits and discussions with different local religious communities were conducted. We filmed a lot of interesting material, which is now being edited. Productions will be presented at the final exchange and symposium, which will be held at the end of July 2008 in Ljubljana.
